The hospital fund is still booming along.

It is time for someone to accuse Melton of laying off those 1,200 New Haven railroad workmen.

Chance for some art-mad American to get the Rokeby "Venus" at reduced price. Trifle shop-worn, to be sure, but still a "Venus."

Boston's "army" of unemployed found the exchange there a moving place when they applied for a night's lodging. Poverty makes strange choice of beds.

The Federal baseball league makes a handy lever for ball players to jack up their salaries in the old leagues. That is the chief effect of the new league up to the present time.

Barre is out to raise $40,000 in 10 days as a hospital fund. It is a goodly sum and the days are few and there needs must be able generalship and concerted effort. Fifteen thousand are already secured and all signs point to success. And let it be hoped that the signs do not fail. It would be difficult to find a more worthy cause for generosity.—St. Albans Messenger.

Barre appreciates the kindly sentiments and takes occasion to assure the St. Albans contemporary that its courage is good and hopes high for successful completion of the undertaking.

The Boston newspaper that is printing a moving picture tale with illustrations of the blood and thunder sort, depicting villains and defenceless women, the latter aiming revolvers at the aforesaid villains, is not doing its best toward reducing crime among the people of its community. Such pictures act as a spur to weak minds to think that such incidents are heroic and to be imitated faithfully. The pictures are exactly the sort which public opinion insists shall not be placed on billboards as advertisements of the lurid drama. Then why should a newspaper go contrarily to recognized good public policy?

"HOME RULE."

Senator Hollis of New Hampshire acted as "next friend" when he endorsed Thomas H. Browne of Rutland for appointment as collector of customs at Burlington. Mr. Hollis went to President Wilson with his endorsement. Perhaps Mayor Burke of Burlington sold his blacksmith shop too soon.—Brattleboro Reformer.

Possibly so. But isn't it rather odd that a New Hampshire man should thrust himself into a matter which concerns Vermont almost exclusively? With all due respect to Senator Hollis, Vermonters feel competent to recommend to the administration the men whom they desire to see appointed for these positions. We fancy that Senator Hollis would be one of the first to object should some Vermont man go to President Wilson and tell him that such and such a person in New Hampshire ought to be appointed to an important position; he would promptly say that New Hampshire was capable of looking after its own affairs. While Vermont people do not feel like reminding Senator Hollis that home rule is a pretty good policy in this connection, they do feel like saying that the recommendation of a person outside of Vermont should not have great weight with the choice of appointees as collectors of customs in the two districts in Vermont. And, doubtless, they would say it whether they prefer Browne or Burke for collector in the Burlington district.

Meyer's team, No. 4, the "We Lead 'Em" banner was wrested by Team No. 3, captained by Chief C. B. Gladding. The good-natured rivalry between the teams has developed nothing but a keen desire on the part of one team to outdo another. Wherever the teams come together in close contests of this kind, only the best of good feeling prevails. Frank G. Howland presided at the meeting last night and Rev. J. B. Reardon asked the invocation.

Thus far only the canvass in Barre City has been reported officially. The progress here, alone, is exceeding the most sanguine expectations of the committees, but if current reports are as accurate as they seem, workers in towns about are not one whit less energetic than the local campaigners. At supper to-night, it is expected that a number of official reports will have been received from the allied towns. They will be announced and will figure in tomorrow's report of the day's doings.

When You Buy Drugs

Do You Think About Quality

or do you merely call for a certain amount of any given thing? There are many grades of drugs procurable, and if you are not a judge, you should select a family druggist upon whom you can rely. If you buy at our store you can be sure of right quality. We handle only the purest goods. We don't judge quality by price when we buy, but we test all drugs and make sure of purity and right potency. Profit at the expense of a customer's health we do not consider legitimate.

We should like to furnish all of your drugs and drug store goods, on the basis of quality goods at fair prices
